Calika

Simon Kealoha has been releasing his own brand of electro-acoustic music for the past five years. He has released two previous albums for Audiobulb records, one for Scottish Label Benebecula, as well as various EP's and compilation appearances.

Through each release he has continued to explore his love of jazz, hip hop and post rock, found sounds, degraded loops and twisted beats, incorporating them into loose musical structures that grow organically from start to finish, taking unexpected twists and turns along the way.

Blood Embrace

Blood Embrace strips back his sounds to its simpler, rawer elements, giving a more urgent and immediate feel to the music. This is the result of a conscious attempt to alter the working process, jamming out ideas and giving them the chance to grow within their own space with as little editing as possible.

Thank you for your support in listening, playing and writing about this release – it is truly appreciated.
